Olympic Resource Management (ORM) manages 76,000 acres around the Hood Canal on behalf of Pope Resources. The Port Gamble block (which includes the Port Gamble town site) covers approximately 4,300 acres in Kitsap County along State Route 104. The area is an ideal setting for recreational activities.

Recreation

Non-motorized recreation such as horseback riding, mountain biking and hiking are well suited to the Port Gamble area. The use of ATVs or motorcycles is not permitted as they may damage roads, young trees and wildlife habitat. Roads are constructed for timberland management and are usually unmarked and may be primitive. Please use caution and obey all posted signs.

Hunting

Hunting is permitted during open seasons unless other access restrictions are in place. Recreational users are advised to be especially cautious during these times. For information concerning hunting activities, call (360) 697-6626, extension 680.

Parking

When visiting the Port Gamble area, park well off the road and don't block gates or side roads. Logging trucks with long loads can easily damage vehicles parked too close to the road or gate.

Parking is available at several locations around the Port Gamble area.

- ▶ Port Gamble townsite near the Museum and General Store.
- ▶ Adjacent to the sand pit, south of the intersection of SR 104 and Port Gamble Road NE.

Guidelines

- ▶ Recreation is day use only. Overnight camping is not permitted. Be sure to pack out your garbage as there are no refuse facilities within the block.
- ▶ Prevent forest fires. Be sure to check the fire hazard rating before heading out.
- ▶ If you do see a forest fire, report it by calling the Department of Natural Resources' 24-hour tip line at 1-800-562-6010.

Visitors using Pope Resources' property or other property managed by Olympic Resource Management, do so at their own risk. Neither Pope Resources nor ORM is liable for damages and compensation arising from such use.
